

Same Setup For Convo Coming Yr.

Wartburg's convocation schedule will not change.

At a recent meeting, the Convocation Committee recommended the retention of the present program, according to Dr. Clifford Hanson, committee chairman.

"AFTER CAREFUL consideration of several possibilities, we were of the opinion that it would be wise to continue the existing time schedule for chapel and convocation," said Dr. Hanson.

Suggested alternatives included one hour convocation coupled with four 20-minute morning chapel periods and two convocations with three chapel services. Difficulty in scheduling and the problem of required chapel attendance stymied these suggestions, according to Dr. Hanson.

"IT WILL BE the aim of the committee to have about half of the convocations be of a religious nature," said Dr. Hanson. "It is fitting that a college committed to the Christian faith should have an hour in the middle of academic activity to worship God."

"Similarly, at a Christian liberal arts college, it seems fitting that we arrange a series of programs for the entire campus community to develop and nurture a common interest in the arts and sciences," he added.

DR. HANSON ALSO pointed out that the new chapel-auditorium would give opportunity for progressive development and improvement in the total impact of the convocation program.

He looks for no immediate scheduling change for convocation in the future, although the chapel program may be changed. Recommendations for change may come from bodies other than the Convocation Committee, Dr. Hanson added.

Convo Bills Boe, Monthly Meets

Faculty and Student Body meetings will take over the convo period Tuesday, with Dr. Paul Boe, slated to speak during the worship service Thursday.

Dr. Boe has served as executive secretary of the Lutheran Welfare in Des Moines. He is presently in Minneapolis preparing for the position of executive secretary of the merged The American Lutheran Church.

Karen Called Campus Best

"Oh, my knees — I'm so shaky!" said Karen Simpson, sophomore from Janesville, minutes after she had been presented with a bouquet of roses naming her Wartburg's 1960 Best-dressed Girl.

Miss Simpson was selected from a field of 10 candidates by a panel of nine judges Tuesday evening. She wore a champagne-colored party dress with brown accessories.

Three photographs of Miss Simpson will be entered in Glamour Magazine's nationwide search for the 10 Best-dressed College Girls in America.

She will be pictured in the three categories of dress prescribed by the magazine — an on-campus outfit, an off-campus daytime outfit and a party dress.

Runners-up in the local contest are Miss Carol Baer, senior from Grimes, and Miss Jane Becker, junior from Oak Lawn, Ill.

SB Project Ballot Close; May Re-Vote

JOHN TUECKE, Student Body Project chairman, discusses project plans with Fred Mai, carnival chairman. The annual carnival to raise funds for the SB Project is scheduled for April 9.

Theater Rec. Equipment Most Popular Proposal

Balloting for this year's Student Body Project was so close that a re-vote may have to be taken or projects recombined.

According to Bruce Buslaff, Student Body Project Committee member, the three proposals involving recreational equipment for the Little Theater were almost equally popular with students voting at Thursday's convocation. Two of the proposed projects were only one vote apart.

Missions To Get March Spotlight

First Mission Emphasis Week at Wartburg is slated March 20-25, according to Bill Schroeder, Mission Fellowship president.

The program, which is sponsored by Mission Fellowship, will feature five missionaries who will speak at convocation and to various groups.

Participating will be the Rev. Luthard Eid, professor at the Lutheran Seminary in Hong Kong, and the Rev. Robert Martenson, missionary in the Sudan Mission, Cameroun, West Africa.

Dr. Henry Mayer, missionary to India; Dr. John Kuder, president of the Lutheran Mission of New Guinea; and the Rev. Gerhard Vorland, missionary to Japan will round out the week.

"If the program carries through with enough interest, we hope to make it an annual event," said Schroeder.

THE THREE ITEMS combined with the recreational equipment to form three separate projects were a color television set for the Union, lights for the tennis courts and a movie projector.

The other two proposals on the ballot were cold-water drinking fountains for the dormitories and a piano for the chapel-auditorium.

FINAL DECISION about the re-vote or re-combination will be made after John Tuecke, general chairman, and Dave Jensen, project chairman, return from the Galesburg, Ill., basketball tourney early next week, according to Buslaff.

Soliciting is set for March 13-18. Dormitories, trailer court, off-campus housing and Waverly students each have a chairman to supervise their phases of the drive.

MEANWHILE, PLANS for the annual campus carnival, set for Saturday, April 9, are gathering steam, according to junior Fred Mai, carnival chairman. The event will be plotted around a beatnik theme.

"We certainly hope this will promote the beard-growing contest," said Mai.

ALL PROCEEDS from the carnival will go into the Student Body Project fund, according to Mai.

Committee Organizes Monthly Discussions

Final plans are being made for monthly educational discussions sponsored by the Academic Life Committee. The first of these will be presented Thursday, March 31.

"A Liberal Arts College—So What?" will form the basis for the first panel. Participants in the discussion plan to include Dr. Edwin Sandberg, The Rev. Edwin Schick, Dr. Clifford Hanson and Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg. The program will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Fuchs Lounge, according to Joanne Mammen, secretary of the Academic Life Committee.

Second panel will be held April 21. The theme for this discussion will be "Communism vs. Democracy—An Ideological or Economic Conflict."

The topic for May's panel is still undecided.

Ahmad Jamal To Play At ISTC, Luther

The Ahmad Jamal jazz trio will make two appearances at colleges in this area in the near future.

Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, will host the musicians March 14 for an 8:15 p.m. concert in the college auditorium. Tickets will be made available starting March 7 and will be sold for $1.50. Telephone orders will be taken at Colfax 6-1721, Extension 515.

Luther College, Decorah, has scheduled the group for an 8 p.m. concert March 19. Arrangements for this annual jazz concert are being handled by the Kappa Phi Tau brotherhood.

Reserved floor seats are on sale for two dollars, with bleacher seats priced at $1.50. All communications for tickets, with remittance, should be addressed to Jazz Concert, Luther College, Decorah.

Now the top-selling jazz group in the nation, pianist Jamal leads his trio of a bass, guitar and drums behind the smooth rhythm of his "talking piano."

During his past engagements, Jamal evidenced an astute awareness of popular tastes while achieving remarkable popularity in nationally famous concert halls across the country.

'Faustus' On Soon

"HERE'S HOW," says Director Lestrud as he puts junior Bruce Bergquist through his paces in anticipation of his lead role in "Dr. Faustus" to be presented this weekend.

Bruce Bergquist, junior, will take the lead as Dr. Faustus in the March 10, 11 and 12 production of "The Tragical History of Doctor Faustus."

Bergquist has performed in two Wartburg Players productions in the past, "The Hasty Heart" and "Charlie's Aunt." He has also been in two Castle Singers productions.

Bergquist is enrolled in the acting course this year, and according to director Vernon Lestrud, he does an excellent job portraying what is probably the most difficult part ever presented in a play.

Faustus' companion Mephistopheles will be portrayed by sophomore Don Ehlers. Ehlers has participated in a number of Wartburg plays since his freshman year.

He was in "Charlie's Aunt," "Patience," "The Queen's Messenger," "The Broken Circle," and played the lead in "The Importance of Being Earnest" and also last spring in the one-act play "George Spelvin." Don is the president of Wartburg Players and is also a member of Alpha Psi Omega.

The play has a simple plot. The main character, Dr. Faustus, sells his soul to the devil so that he may have magical powers.

Two For The Show

Prices climb higher all the time. This is one of the earmarks of our society. It can be seen here at Wartburg. This year tuition went up. Next year board will increase.

A further increase in fees may be voted at Tuesday's Student Body meeting. The senate has recommended that two dollars be added to the present student government fee of 25 cents. A news letter explaining the increase will probably be distributed Monday, according to Student Body Pres. Norm Litzner.

Although the additional fee may be used for a variety of government activities, its motivating factor is the support of a pops concert. This year the annual concert was canceled. One of the main reasons for this action was lack of adequate financial support.

After last year's concert, senators went begging among students during convocation in a vain attempt to pull the concert out of the red. The year before, the concert also lost money.

It is evident that if Wartburg is to sponsor a pops concert, the program must be put on a more stable financial basis. This basis would be provided by the increased student government fee. In addition, this method would keep control of the concert directly in student hands. Such proposed alternatives as lumping the pops concert with the Artist Series program would necessitate outside control.

However, in addition to the increased fee, students attending the concert might also have to buy tickets, if the cost of the performer is high. In recent years pops concert tickets have cost $1.50.

The question is whether a pops concert is worth the proposed individual cash outlay.

However, the whole Student Body does not have to concern itself with this problem. It will be decided by the 10 per cent who attend Student Body meetings.

On the questionnaires handed out by the Student Welfare Committee the student can criticize everything about the cafeteria and the most important thing — the food. Are they afraid of the answers?

You think you have it rough! What about the blond-whiskered fellow trying to compete with the dark-whiskered guy in the beard-growing contest?

We found the best-dressed girl on campus; why don't we find the boy with the holiest socks?

Truism from a college switchboard operator: "I'd much rather work in the evening than during the day. It can be serious if President Becker's connection isn't right during the day, but in the evening, all I have to do is get the boys and girls on one line and they'll talk no matter how bad the connection."

These are the times that try students' hearts! Basketball and wrestling seasons are about over and track and baseball won't be starting for another month. That leaves you with nothing to do but study!

Heard about the Wartburg coed who got her first phone call this semester, and it came during floor devotions?

It seems as though a lot of razors on campus went out of order all at once.

Library method of combating the rush on hangers in the cloakroom: Keep the temperature close to freezing; then the students will either wear their coats to study or go home.

If at first you don't succeed, ask the nearest student. How many students realize that there is a car for every two students on campus?

EHRMAN ASKS, 'WHAT'S NEXT?'

Students Don't Know Any Geography, According To Recent Nation Survey

By Ray Ehrman

This past week three issues of the Des Moines Register featured articles on the ignorance of U.S. college students regarding their own country's and the world's geography. The article showed some results of a survey of five thousand students in 34 colleges.

"The results are staggering," the articles conclude, and "should come as a shock to the American people."

Geography is another area of knowledge that is clamoring for attention. Religion, law and philosophy used to be "the thing" to emphasize in higher education during the Middle Ages. But since then the sciences have made themselves known and wish to be the foremost segment of knowledge in importance.

Ehrman

Now it is geography, though in its very small way. What will be next? How about psychology, the fine arts or physical education?

In ancient Greece physical training was considered almost as important as training the mind. Will law, religion and philosophy ever return to their former level of importance? Or have these been shut up for all time?

Obviously, we have all our lives to learn. No one stops learning after his college years. So it is almost nonsense to expect a college student to remember very many facts, which he may never have had the chance to use. One remembers facts mostly because he reviews them.

It is said that the average student remembers only about five to ten per cent of all he learns. Does the fact that someone doesn't remember a certain fact prove anything? It either shows he never knew or he hasn't reminded himself of it lately.

The writer of the article in the Des Moines Register is perhaps right in pointing out the value of knowing geography. But obviously we don't have the time to specialize in every knowledge. We have trouble with one or two major subjects. Specializing in one subject naturally results in knowing less in others.

As members of a Christian college we can't forget the value of knowing the most important knowledge a person can have, Christ as the Savior of the world.

It is true that we are clamoring for attention on behalf of Christianity when we try to show the importance of this knowledge. But any time we put this knowledge second to any other segment of knowledge clamoring for the attention of the same person, we might as well consider Iowa State just as much a Christian college as Wartburg.

Mid Knight March

By Bob Solete

Heard that some BSA (Boy Scouts of America?) members ditched the Mardi Gras last Friday for the real thing in New Orleans. Wonder if they're going to try the old Vollmer House (not Hall) trick of running all the way back, or don't they need recognition?

By the way, what's become of Vollmer House? It's antics have seemingly degenerated since vacated by such greats as the legendary Loslo, Melvin, Korfmacher, etc. And a freshman says, "Who're they?" Ah, yes, those were the good old days when you couldn't tell what Vollmer would do next. Wonder if its (Vollmer's) degeneration has anything to do with the fact that South Centennial's official name is Vollmer Hall? The girls think it's a bad connotation.

Vollmer's unpredictable pranks are gone forever, and the campus is stuck with Alpha's seeking of recognition. Let's take a poll. Anybody remember when Alpha was a girls' residence?

Seems not enough foresight was used in last year's Student Body Project. What's wrong? Can't see the forest for the trees?

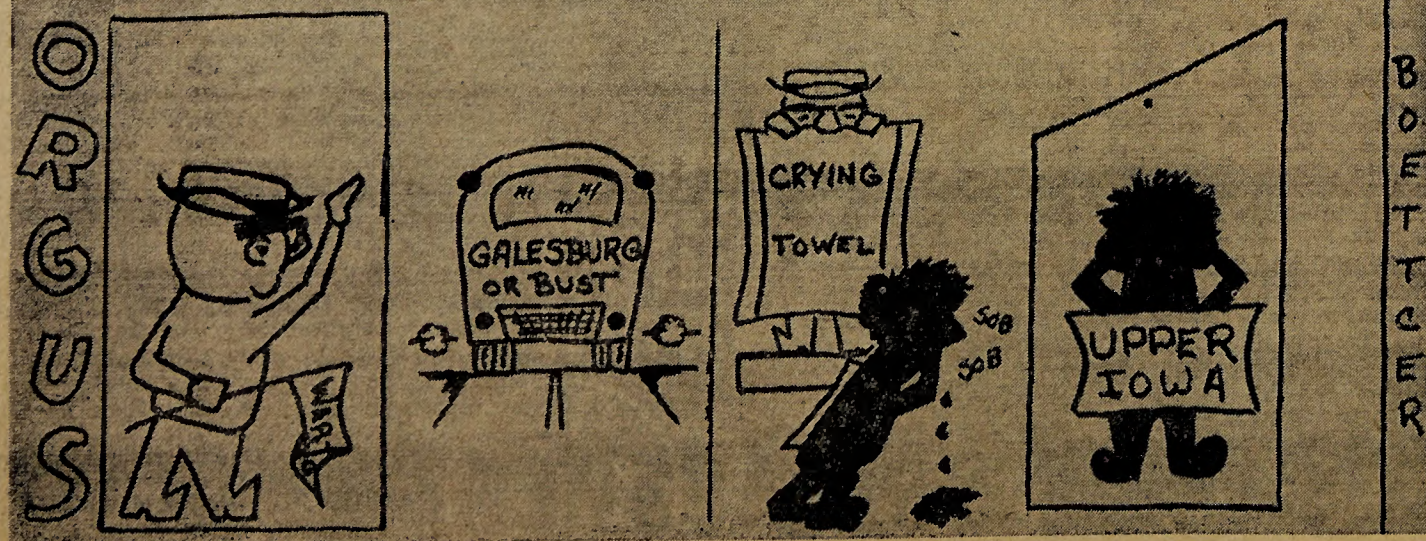

At last week's editors' conference, every school represented agreed that the humor column of its respective newspaper was read first and foremost by the students. Too bad the same thing can't be said about Mid Knight March.

For those of you still wondering, no, Claggett isn't writing this column.

Was that a prophetic utterance in the convo honoring the basketball team? Doesn't Chi Sigma Tau's interpretation of Wartburg school spirit stand a ghost of a chance?

That was a big show. Say, Krug, have you ever tried braids?

No question of the week. Ol' Bob thinks he knows all the answers.

Cornell Nudges Axmen 72-67 At NCAA Last Night

By Chuck Jepsen

Cornell's hustling basketball team overcame a 10 point deficit at halftime to post a 72-67 victory over the Wartburg Knights in first round action of the N C A A tournament at Galesburg, Ill., last night.

Trailing 35-25 at intermission, Cornell applied a full-court press which the Knights could not solve the final 20 minutes and greatly outlasted Wartburg's team in the second half.

At one time in the initial period, Wartburg led by 13 points.

NORM REMMERS led the Knights at halftime with 9 points, and Ron Altenburg had the same number for Cornell.

Only two minutes had expired in the second half when Wartburg's margin had been cut to a mere two points. After that, the Knights hung on to a slim lead until Altenburg knotted the contest with a jump shot with 6:35 remaining.

IN THE NEXT FOUR minutes the lead changed hands four times. The Knights held their last lead with 2:20 to go. From then on it was all Cornell, as the team built a larger lead on the strength of their free throw accuracy.

Wartburg controlled the boards in the first half, gathering 29 rebounds to 16 for the opponents. The second half was a different story as Cornell grabbed 26 compared to 22 for the Knights.

Wartburg had the best of the shooting percentages, as they hit on 29 of 73, an accuracy of 39.7 per cent. Cornell connected on 26 of 72 for a percentage of 36.1 per cent.

RON ALTENBURG, the Midwest Conference's scoring leader, led all players with 26 points. The person who broke Wartburg's back, however, was Steve Becker, who scored all 11 of his points in the last 14 minutes of play.

Bob Mueller with 16 and John Tuecke with 15 led the Knights' balanced scoring.

In the other first round game at Galesburg, Prairie View A. and M. defeated South Dakota State 78-63.

Tonight Wartburg plays SDS in the consolation game at 7:30. Prairie View, an all-Negro team, clashes with Cornell in the finals at 9:15.

Wartburg Hosts Conference Wrestling Meet Today

A SMILING AX looks on as Dr. Elmer Hertel, Iowa Conference secretary, hands the basketball trophy to Senior Knight Cager John Tuecke during last Tuesday's convo honoring the champions.

Picking Up Splinters

By Chuck Jepsen

With the closing of the winter sports season, we see stirring in the spring sports department. Coach Earnest Oppermann's baseball squad is limbering up the ol' soupbones daily in the friendly confines of Knights Gymnasium. Track men are seen jogging around campus in heavy sweat clothes.

Spring sports have a high goal to attain. Fall sports had a combined record of 10-7, while the winter sports to date are 22-11-1. Included in this is a football conference championship, a basketball crown and a second-place finish in the cross-country meet.

In recent years while Wartburg has been mashing all opponents in football and basketball, spring sports teams have had to be content with finishing in the middle of the standings.

Last year's record for the four spring sports was 15-19. This may be the year of springtime success for Wartburg. All four pitchers head the list of veterans returning from last year's fourth-place finishers in the baseball standings.

Only two lettermen are gone from the track squad, while many of the golfers returned. All men from last year's diminutive tennis team are around again this year.

If the Knights are to match last year's banner year in the sports department, they are going to have to go at a tremendous pace. Last year Wartburg defeated 66 per cent of all opponents in the eight sports in which they participated.

Wartburg now claims a first for the state of Iowa, two consecutive football and basketball crowns.

Two Knights add to records every time they step on the basketball court. John Tuecke adds to his career's scoring and rebounding totals, and Don Hein increases his record for most points scored as a sophomore.

Got any 6-foot 6-inch brothers or close friends? If so, contact Coach Ax Bundgaard immediately. Although losing only two squad members this year, these two are the tallest men on the team and will be tremendously hard to replace.

Here's hoping that most of you are reading this after a successful trip to Galesburg, Ill.

Seven Iowa Grappler Teams Compete In Tourney For First Time Since '53

By Tom Kuckkahn

First Iowa Conference wrestling meet since 1953 is being held today in Knights Gymnasium. Buena Vista, Dubuque, Luther, Parsons, Simpson, Upper Iowa and Wartburg began battling for the championship at 1 p.m.

Fifty-two grapplers will be participating in the fifty or sixty matches which will be held throughout the day. Approximately forty to forty-eight of these contests will be held in the afternoon during the quarter and semi-finals. The final matches will begin at 7:30 p.m. Two mats will be in use throughout the meet.

DUBUQUE, a team which hasn't lost a meet this year, will be favored, but Upper Iowa, which has also been having a successful season, should also be a top contender for the honors.

Although Wartburg has lost to Dubuque and Upper Iowa, they can still walk away with the championship with good drawings, which were conducted this morning.

Buena Vista appears destined to the last place spot because it has not entered a wrestler in the 123, 137 or heavyweight division. Simpson has no entry in the 130 pound class, but other than that no other teams have left any divisions without an entry.

MANY OF THE best wrestlers in the state will be invading Knights Gym along with their respective teams. Ron Fretheim of Luther, who has compiled a 23-1-1 record in the 167 class the last two years, heads the list.

Dubuque is tough from one end of the weight class to the other. Jim Fox in the 157 division is one of the most outstanding grapplers on the squad.

UPPER IOWA also has a well balanced, experienced squad with Jerry Deberge, Neil Evans and Bob Dirks standing out in the 157, 177 and heavyweight classes respectively.

Wartburg should be especially tough in the 177 pound entry with Al Hassman, the most successful matman on the squad, and also in the 157 class where Rog Hildebrandt has been turning in good performances. John Sternberg will replace Lloyd Casey in the 123 spot.

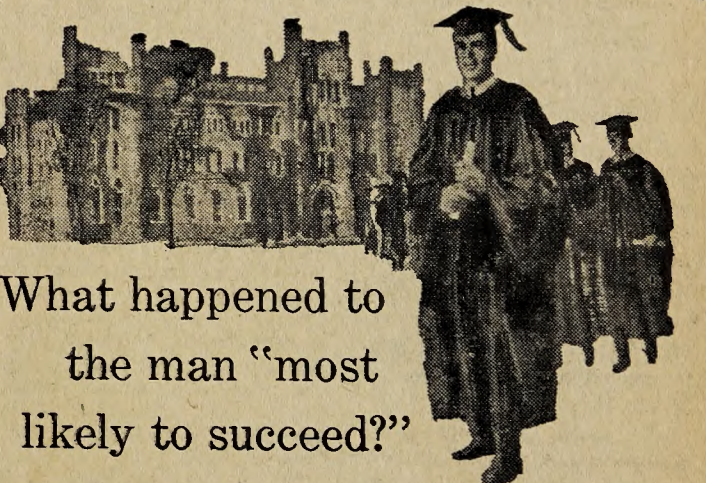

Leading Keglers Retain Slim Edge

Don Ringgenberg's bowlers held on to their narrow league lead in IM action last Saturday.

Bill Wachholz's team threatened by sweeping three games from Roger Heins' squad, but Ringgenberg's keggers stood firm and whipped Al Snook's team 3-0. By winning all three, Wachholz's men leaped over Heins' team into second place and trailing by a game.

Two matches ended in tighter 2-1 scores. Jerry Ford's pinmen beat Dave Braunschweig's last-place team, and Bruce Buslaff's team trimmed Stan Ahrendt's.

Darrol Bauer had the best score for the men for the second time this year, as he bowled a 367 in two games.

What happened to the man "most likely to succeed?"

Back in 1953, Ben was the guy with the winning smile, personality and good grades. Couldn't miss. So, they voted him "Most likely to succeed."

One day, Ben's roommate said, "What are you going to do when you graduate? I haven't got a thing lined up."

"Well, nothing's final, John," said Ben. "But I am thinking about Lutheran Brotherhood."

"Life insurance? I haven't given that much thought."

"Sounds like a good deal, John. This is the life insurance society for Lutherans—like you and me. And it's really growing fast."

Ben's right! Lutheran Brotherhood has over $1 billion of life insurance in force in 40 states and five Canadian provinces. There are good openings right now for college men. And, a full training program... real opportunities for qualified young men who want a lifetime career in life insurance.

What happened to Ben, the "man most likely to succeed?" He joined Lutheran Brotherhood and is now a General Agent. And John, his roommate? Ben's right hand man in the business of providing security for fellow Lutherans.

You can't beat success. And the opportunities in 1960 are even greater with Lutheran Brotherhood. Send us a card for the full story.

Collegiate Editors Plan Press Group At Meeting Here

Editors from three North-east Iowa colleges drew up a charter planting the seed for the first Iowa Collegiate Press Association at the closing session of the Editors' confab here Saturday.

Flachman Iowa State Teachers College Eye, Cedar Falls; Luther College Chips, Decorah; and the Wartburg Trumpet became the first members of the organization. Wilbur Flachman, Trumpet editor, was selected as first chairman of the new association.

Jim Daman, ISTC editor; Lynn Steen, Chips associate editor; and Linda Mugridge, Trumpet managing editor, will serve as committee members. The four will meet and draw up a constitution for the organization April 3.

Initial purpose of the new association includes (1) advanced exchange of copy concerning items that are of interest or concerned with the other school and (2) promoting the editors' conference annually.

Qualifications for other Iowa college papers wishing to join the association will go out with promotional material following the April 3 meeting.

2 Wartburg Teams Currently In Action At St. Thomas College Debate Tourney

Two Wartburg teams have entered the Northwest Debate Tournament at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, this weekend.

One of the teams entered consists of junior Deanna Stob and senior Dean Engbrecht. The other team is composed of juniors Bill Goetz and Dallas Johnson.

On March 10, 11 and 12, a number of Wartburg students will enter the Iowa Forensic Association tournament at Grinnell College, Grinnell.

Johnson and sophomore Meta Fokkena will take part in oratory March 10. Johnson and Miss Stob will take part in poetic reading March 10.

Goetz and Engbrecht will enter in extemporaneous speaking. Miss Stob, Goetz and Engbrecht will be in discussion on March 11.

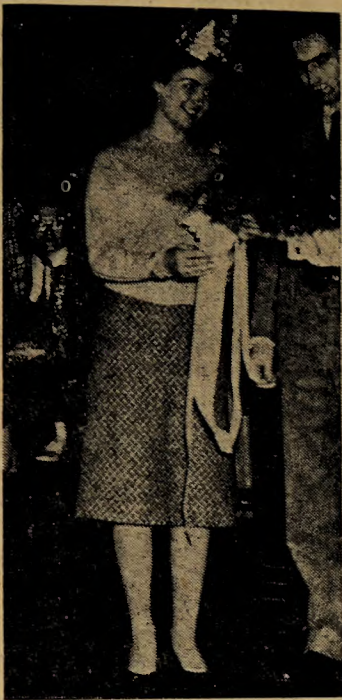

On Friday and Saturday, March 11 and 12, two teams—one consisting of Miss Stob and Engbrecht and one composed of Goetz and Johnson, will be entered in four rounds of debate.

Tri-Beta Initiates 13 New Members

Thirteen people were initiated into Tri-Beta, honorary biology fraternity, recently at a banquet held in the basement of St. John's Lutheran church.

Becoming full-fledged members of the Tri-Beta society were Sherilyn Ashley, Sibley, Ill.; Marlys Briley, Nevada; Ruth Chatfield, Minneapolis; Betty Haefs, New Prague, Minn.; Robert Niemann, Charles City.

Sandra Reiners, Clara City, Minn.; Lee Eichele, Lodi, Calif.; Corliss Klaassen, Pomeroy; Constance Wiechers, Napoleon, Ohio; Roger Zehr, Flanagan, Ill.; Vernon Ritzman, Hampton; Carol Froehlich, Aberdeen, S. D.; and Duane Childs, Manchester.

QUEEN OF A Book, Marti Stuhmer, senior from Alma, Nebr., smilingly accepts a bouquet of roses from Ed Scharlau, Fortress co-editor.

Surprised Marti Crowned 1960's Fortress Queen

What started out to be a date for dinner at Carver's and a basketball game following developed into a coronation ceremony for Wartburg's 1960 Fortress queen, Meredith Stuhmer.

Miss Stuhmer, senior from Alma, Neb., was squired to dinner and the Parsons game Feb. 20 by Fortress co-editor Ed Scharlau. She was unaware that she had been selected as queen by Fortress staffers until the half-time coronation ceremony.

"Thinking back, I can see that circumstances pointed to it, but I just didn't put two and two together," she said.

Miss Stuhmer will represent Wartburg as a candidate for queen of the Drake Relays, sponsored later in the year by Drake University, Des Moines. Coeds from all over the nation compete for the crown.

Love Gives Tests

Dr. Katherine Love, German Department, gave a test to advanced high school German students on the Wartburg campus this morning.

The test is part of a national contest sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of German. The winner will receive a trip to Germany.

Chemist To Speak

George W. Reed, associate chemist at Argonne Research Laboratory, Chicago, will speak at a meeting of the American Chemical Society Monday at 7 p.m. in Wartburg Hall Lounge.

Students from Upper Iowa University, Fayette; Luther, Decorah; Iowa State Teachers, Cedar Falls, as well as from neighboring high schools are invited to hear Reed speak on "Meteorite Studies and the Determination of Trace Elements by Activation Analysis."

Clinton To Get Library

A self-service library will be installed in Clinton Hall Lounge in the near future, according to Miss Perna Lohn, college librarian.

The library will consist of 50 paperback books dealing with history, science, religion and arts in both the fiction and the non-fiction fields. A number of magazines have also been ordered.

"This will be an experimental program to stimulate interest in library use and recreational reading," Miss Lohn pointed out.

Jack Fischer, junior, is acting representative from the Hall in selecting books and promoting the functioning of the library.

According to Fischer, the books have been ordered and the library will open in the lounge as soon as they arrive.

"If it works out satisfactorily, it is possible that the same program can be extended to other dormitories," Miss Lohn said.

Some of the books ordered are "Dr. Zhivago," "Exodus," "On the Beach," "Up From Slavery," "My Ten Years as a Counter Spy" and "Poker According to Maverick."

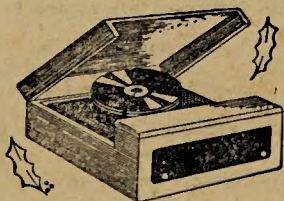

Four Students Attend ELC Meet At Luther

Four Wartburg students are at Luther College, Decorah, attending an Evangelical Lutheran Church Youth Conference this weekend. They are junior Joan Pirner, junior Evelyn Helms, freshman Claudette Zwicker and senior Larry Nelson.

This is the first time Wartburg students have been invited to have a part in the conference that involves students from the ELC colleges. The invitation is one more step in the move toward the merger. Colleges represented are St. Olaf, Concordia, Pacific Lutheran, Augustana and Luther.

Phebes will meet Monday in the Faculty Lounge. The speaker will be H. A. Flessener from Deaconess Hospital in Milwaukee.

Mr. Flessener will be available in the afternoon for consultation. Students interested in careers as laboratory technicians, nurses or deaconesses will find this meeting informative and interesting.

Oh, yes, the time is 7 p.m.

Chi Rho will meet Sunday, March 13, at 1:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building.

The speaker will be Professor Franklyn Sherman from the School of Religion, State University of Iowa, Iowa City. His topic will be "The Catholicity of Lutheranism." A discussion will be held after the speech.

Members say that the public is invited to attend the meeting and participate in the discussion.

A meeting scheduled for Monday, March 14, is that of SEA. The meeting will be held in the Fine Arts Choral Room at 7 p.m.

All members are urged to be present to vote for an amendment which will move election of officers into the month of March. If the amendment is approved, there will be election of officers at the meeting.

Dale Behne of the travel agency in Waverly will speak at the meeting. He will give an illustrated travel talk on his trip to the Caribbean and to various parts of the United States.

Business Students Association will hear Lester Roeder from the A. C. Allyn Company of Waterloo, Monday, March 7, at 7 p.m. in Grossmann Hall lounge.

Roeder will speak on "Choosing a Broker and How to Buy Stocks."
